Key benefits

Powered by machine learning and AI

Unlike the pretenders, AI and machine learning are at the very heart of Ai Auditor. While expert taught AI analysis interrogates the data for errors, machine learning algorithms hum alongside looking for outliers in the data. AI powered natural language search lets you query the data in mere seconds, instead of fighting to script antiquated manual tests.

100% data analysis

A wise man once said, "Sampling is a coping mechanism for dealing with large data." Don't leave risk assessment to chance, Ai Auditor analyzes your entire data set, and unlike any other solutions it examines full transactions, looking at the monetary flows between accounts, all credits and all debits. Oh, and we also provide a sleek sample-selector tool that helps you adhere to current processes, and to justify if required, precisely why those samples were selected.

Zero scripting, zero training

Wasting time on data ingestion and account groupings are now a relic of the past. Solutions that require IT resources, scripting and training on CAAT tools, those solutions are working against you, not with you. Ai Auditor works by your side, taking care of the heavy lifting, providing the best possible analysis for your audits, while freeing you spend time where it matters.

Getting Started is Easy

Identify risk, in seconds

With a powerful and intuitive reporting interface, Ai Auditor empowers you to examine and compare risk assessments across your entire data set, whether it be by account, by time, by user, vendor or transaction. The visually compelling drill down functionality provides a beacon to explore the data at a more granular level, where detailed risk assessments, and their explanations are just a click away.

Redefining reasonable assurance

Dozens of the most powerful risk-detection criteria on Earth, including expert taught AI and machine learning algorithms, working together to analyze 100% of your data, including all monetary flows between accounts? That's not some pipe dream for the future, that's MindBridge Ai Auditor today. Welcome to reasonable assurance, redefined.

Lightning fast results

Big data? No problem. The speed at which Ai Auditor consumes, processes and analyzes data is incredibly fast. Whether you are using our drag and drop interface to load your data, or syncing up with your favorite ERP platform, you'll be exploring the results of your data in mere moments.

Discover new insights

Ai Auditor encourages and facilitates data exploration like never before. The presentation of the analysis, bringing detailed risk ratings to life, the ability to query the data and save and share filters using our natural language processing and filter builder, feeds your ability to understand what is happening beneath the surface, and assemble new insights.
